PRINCE ALBERT VICTOR.

Death of the Queen's Grandson, Next in Succession to the Prince of Wales.

Some of the Last Scenes—General Expressions of Sympathy and Regret.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—News has been received that the Duke of Clarence died quietly and peacefully at Sandringham, at 9:10 a.m. Queen Victoria was immediately notified at Osborne. She at once telegraphed the Prince and Princess of Wales her deep grief and her heartfelt share in their loss. At 11 o'clock the Mayor of London received the following dispatch from the Prince and Princess of Wales: "At half-past nine this morning, our beloved son passed away." The great bell of St. Paul's tolled forth the news, and the announcement was immediately posted at the Mansion House. The flags on the Tower of London and all the public buildings were placed at half-mast, while at Windsor Castle half-masted flags gave notice of the affliction that had befallen the Royal house.

The news came with a shock upon the people, as the early morning bulletins encouraged hope of a better result. The news was posted at Marlborough House ten minutes after the occurrence. The crowd, largely composed of working people, gave loud expressions of grief, sympathy and loyalty for the Queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales, and Princess May. Pall Mall and adjoining streets were thronged by nobility, gentry and common people.

A dispatch from Sandringham says that when the last minutes came the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Prince and Princess of Teck, and the Princess Victoria Mary, commonly known as the Princess May, the betrothed of the prince, were grouped at the bedside. The Princess May had passed a sleepless night, and while she bore herself with courage, her eyes, red with weeping, and heaving breast told of her sorrowful heart. The Princess of Wales was apparently overwhelmed by the sense of her privation. There had been a marked improvement during the early part of the night, but the Duke's strength suddenly failed at about two o'clock, and he gradually sank until he was called away.

The lack of strength which always characterized the Duke of Clarence was doubtless attributed to the fact that he was born prematurely, which was not generally known, or at least not generally remembered. About three months before accouchment was expected, his mother twisted her foot in making a figure eight and fell back, sustaining a severe strain. The birth of the late Duke followed within a few weeks. His weakness, amounting almost to the effeminacy, which characterized the young man, and which was the occasion of many jibes in the press and among gossipers, only served to draw him the closer to his parents' affections and the Princess, especially, idolized her eldest son.

People who like to draw ominous parables are calling attention to the fatality which seems to have attended the name of Clarence in the Royal house of Great Britain. The only Clarence who lived out the usual term of years granted to men was the one who reigned under the title of William IV.

The question of succession to the throne is giving rise to great uneasiness among those who recognize the importance of having no hitch in the line of descent, in view of the growing feeling of indifference toward the principle of monarchy in general now prevalent among the masses. It is felt that while the continuance of the present type of government is reasonably sure, as long as no element of disturbance arises, yet any dispute over the succession, or any complete break in the line, would be likely to furnish the occasion for some radical overthrow of existing institutions, which are thought by many people to have outlasted their usefulness. It is being vigorously debated, therefore, whether or not the Duchess of Fife, formerly the Princess Louise, eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales, would be allowed to succeed to the throne, in case of the death, without issue, of Prince George. The mere fact of her marrying a man beneath her in rank, is held by some to have removed her from the line of such succession, but this extreme view is shared by but few. The real question is whether the nation would accept her as Queen with the Duke as a necessary accompaniment. In an interview, this evening, a prominent member of parliament, who prohibited the use of his name, said that the democracy at large were indifferent as to the identity of their monarch or as to whether any monarch at all ruled, but it was otherwise with the aristocracy. The noble families would not submit to a dynasty of Fifes, and without the cordial support of the aristocracy the Crown would not be safe for a day. The Duchess is amiable enough, but entirely without individuality, and would be ruled wholly by her husband. The characteristics of the Duke of Fife for stinginess and arrogance are such as to make him anything but acceptable to the "classes." The Prince of Wales secured him the title of Duke with great difficulty.

Doubtless the marriage of Prince George may shortly be expected, when less will be heard of these uneasy utterances. It has more than once been suggested that, like the present Czar, Prince George may marry the betrothed of his deceased brother. It is at least known that he and the Princess Mary are fond of each other, so that with reasons of state to urge matters on, it ought not to be difficult to arrange such a match. The Prince and Princess of Wales are too much prostrated by grief to suggest as yet any details for the funeral of their son. The Prince, it is said, has spent his time in almost entire seclusion with the Princess, hardly speaking to anyone, and at intervals visiting the chamber of death. The princess of Wales is said to bear her first great bereavement with greater fortitude than the Prince, whose quiet and haggard appearance, when he appeared at the window, this afternoon, and looked upon the familiar grounds in which he had seen his family grow up about him, was more eloquent of the depth of his bereavement than tears would have been. The Princess Mary is said to be on the verge of mental collapse. The worst sign is her restlessness. She wanders about in an aimless way through the house as if she expected to meet her royal lover somewhere and be greeted by him in the old way. Her grief at the death bed was so overwhelming that it attracted the attention of the Prince and Princess of Wales from their own. The dying Prince gave her a last look of recognition as she kissed his forehead. So far, the official news of the last scene is very bare, and what is known has leaked out from the whispers of the household retainers. These seem to be almost as affected as their master and mistress. The Prince and Princess of Wales are deeply beloved, not only by the servants of the household, but by the tenantry of the Sandringham estate, and among the tenants there could hardly be greater grief if the loss was in their own families. Whenever a death has occurred among the tenantry, the Prince and Princess of Wales have made it a duty to visit or send condolence to the stricken household, and now, when there is mourning at Sandringham, every house in the vicinity is also in mourning, and tears can be seen rolling down the faces of the faithful retainers.

The official account, just given out, of the death of the Duke, says that the Rev. Fred'k. A. J. Harvey, domestic chaplain to the Prince of Wales, read the prayers for the dying when the end was near. In the room were assembled the Prince and Princess of Wales, Prince George, the Duke and Duchess of Fife, the Princesses Victoria and Maude, sisters of the dying Duke, Prince and Princess of Teck, and the Princess Mary, the Duke's betrothed. Along with these were three physicians and three nurses. The official account gives no description of the dying scene. Queen Victoria is said to be more prostrated than when she lost Princess Alice and Prince Leopold. The Duke of Clarence was of an especially amiable disposition, and had won his way to his grandmother's heart. Queen Victoria was devotedly attached to him. When he was a babe, she took pleasure in nursing him, and it was remarked that she could not have cared more for the Prince of Wales when an infant. Indeed, the saying is ascribed to Her Majesty that she looked on him as she had on her first-born son. As he grew up, his charming and amiable way confirmed the attachment formed for him as a child, and the Queen had also the highest opinion of his youthful behaviour. The night before his death, it is said, she hardly slept, and when the sad news came, she wished at once to proceed to Sandringham. Although it had been her purpose to go there to-day, in any event, her grief was so impressive that those around her feared the effect of a meeting with the dead and the stricken family at Sandringham might have upon the aged lady, and her medical advisers were summoned for consultation as to the prudence of the journey. Even when her physician advised against it, the Queen could with difficulty be dissuaded from hastening to the bedside.

Telegrams continue to pour in from all parts of the world, and there is general satisfaction expressed over the fact that even the bitterness of Irish partisanship seems to be forgotton in the generosity of Irish sympathy for the royal family, bereaved under such painful circumstances. The expression of condolence by the intensely National municipal authorities of Dublin has been followed by a message of loyalty and devotion from the Apprentice Boys of Derry. The latter telegraphed their sympathy to the Prince of Wales, saying: "Our hearts are with you and our colors are at half-mast; that God may sustain the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Princess May and our widowed Queen in this great affliction is the prayer of the loyal hearts of Derry." Numerous meetings in various parts of the country that had convened to make arrangements for wedding gifts to the Duke and Princess May on the occasion of their intended marriage, adjourned after voting messages of condolence, and committes formed to purchase wedding gifts will send wreaths instead for the funeral.

But few theatres or music halls are open, to-night, in any part of the United Kingdom, and those that are have but scant patronage. The cities of Edinburgh, Manchester, Liverpool and Glasgow will hold official memorial services on the same day as the funeral. The Dublin evening papers all express deep regret for the affliction that has come upon the royal family, and this fact evokes gratified comment among Londoners. The Kingstown town commissioners and the South Dublin board of guardians, the Royal Dublin Society and other bodies, official and otherwise, in the sister island, have sent words of sorrow and sympathy. In London, as well as other cities, many shops have had their shutters up all day, since hearing the news. Although the funeral arrangements await the direction of the Duke of Edinburgh, it is stated that nearly all the Imperial and royal families of Europe will be represented, the deceased Duke being related to nearly all of them, either by blood or marriage.

Prince Albert Victor Christian Edward, eldest son of the Prince and Princess of Wales, was born Jan. 8, 1864. Up till 1871 he was educated at home. In 1877 he entered the navy as a cadet and passed two years on H.M.S. Britannia, at Dartmouth, under Captain Henry Fairfax, R.N., C.B. In July, 1879, he went to sea in H.M.S. Bacchante and visited the West Indies. The following year the Bacchante formed part of the flying squadron under the command of Rear-Admiral the Earl of Clanwilliam, and proceeded to Vigo, Madeira, St. Vincent, Bahia, Montevideo, and the Falkland Islands; thence to the Cape of Good Hope and Australia, on which stations he spent a considerable time. From Australia he went to Fiji, Japan, China, Singapore, Colombo, and Suez, and returned to England in 1882, by way of Egypt, the Holy Land and Athens. In October, 1883, he became an undergraduate at Trinity College, Cambridge, continuing his studies during the long vacations at Heidelberg. After this he was transferred to Aldershot to study military science. His diary, together with that of his brother, Prince George, during their cruise in the Bacchante, was published by Messrs. McMillan & Co., in the spring of 1885, the editor being the Rev. J. N. Dalton, the Prince's governor. He was about to be married to the Princess Victoria of Teck, a second cousin of the Prince of Wales and daughter of Princess Mary Adelaide, the Duchess of Teck and cousin of the Queen.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The news of the death of the Duke was officially communicated to Hon. J. G. Blaine, this afternoon, by Sir Julian Pauncefote, British minister, as follows:

"SIR,—It is my sorrowful duty to announce to you the lamentable intelligence I have just received from the Marquis of Salisbury of the death, this morning, at Sandringham of His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, &c., &c."

The Secretary of State acknowledged Sir Julian's note as follows:

"SIR,—I have conveyed to the President the melancholy information you communicated in your note of this date, of the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, and I am directed by the President to express the sorrow with which he learns of this sad bereavement, suffered by Her Majesty and the Royal family. By a telegraphic instruction, sent to-day, the Minister of the United States has been directed to make suitable communication of the President's deep regret and sincere condolence, etc., etc."

Secretary Blaine immediately cabled Minister Lincoln, at London: "Express the deep regret and sincere condolence of the President, by reason of the lamented death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale."

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—The fatal termination of the illness of the Duke of Clarence was posted on the windows of the various newspaper offices, this morning, and quickly spread throughout the city. The event caused much sorrow here. Flags are flying at half-mast from every public building and also from a number of business establishments.

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—No recent event has elicited so much sympathy in the province of Quebec as the death of the Duke of Clarence, coupled with that of Cardinal Manning. All the flags in the city are at half mast, and the big bell (gros bourdon) of Notre Dame Cathedral is tolling for the dead.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Jan., 14.—The expressions of regret in this community at the death of the Duke of Clarence are deep and general. Flags are flying at half-mast on the Parliament buildings, the city hall, banks, clubs, and hotels. The city wears mourning. Lord Knutsford formally notified the Governor-General of his death. The Governor cabled the sincere condolences of himself and his advisers, and will issue a proclamation, to-morrow, asking the people of Canada to observe the day of the funeral as a day of public mourning. The festivities at Government House will be suspended for some weeks.

The Soulanges election takes place Feb. 3rd.

Canadian Liberals and Reciprocity.

KINGSTON, Jan. 13.—Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the Liberal party, was presented with an address at a public meeting last night, and in reply spoke for an hour, chiefly on the subject of unrestricted reciprocity. He favored unlimited reciprocity as the most feasible. He said the Liberals would support any treaty the Conservatives could get with the United States, but wanted unlimited trade in the products of both countries, and this would come sooner or later.

CARDINAL MANNING.

Brief Sketch of His Career—The Friend of All, the Enemy of None.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Cardinal Henry Edward Manning died this morning. His condition was hopeless for many hours, and it was hardly supposed he would live through the night. He continued, however, to show signs of vitality, and death came very gradually. This morning the Cardinal was able to join devoutly in prayers offered at his bedside. At 7:20 o'clock he breathed slowly, became unconscious, and died at 8 o'clock. His death was calm and painless, and appeared like a gentle sinking to sleep.

His Eminence, Cardinal Manning, was a son of the late William Manning, M.P., a London merchant, and was born at Totteridge, Hertfordshire, England, July 15, 1808. He was educated at Harrow and Balliol College, Oxford, where he graduated B.A., in first-class honors in 1830, and became Fellow of Merton College. He was for some time one of the select preachers in the University of Oxford, was appointed Rector of Lavington and Graftham, Sussex, 1834, and Archdeacon of Chichester in 1840. These preferments he resigned in 1851, on joining the Roman Catholic Church, in which he entered the priesthood, and in 1857 founded an ecclesiastical congregation at Bayswater, entitled the Oblates of St. Charles Borromeo. The degree of D.D. was conferred upon him at Rome, and the office of Provost of the Catholic Archdiocese of Westminster, Protonotary Apostolic and Domestic Prelate to the Pope. After the death of His Eminence, Cardinal Wiseman, Monsignor Manning was consecrated Archbishop of Westminster, June 8, 1865. Pope Pius IX. created him a Cardinal Priest, March 15, 1875, the title assigned to him being that of S.S. Andrew and Gregory on the Coelian Hill. The same Pontiff invested him with the Cardinal's hat in a consistory held at the Vatican, December 31, 1877.

The deceased prelate was a most voluminous writer and a controversialist of the highest rank. His published works were numerous and most impartial, many of them being discussions and vindications of Roman Catholic doctrine, and polity as well as in justification of his own course in severing his connection with the Anglican communion. Some of his works and pamphlets have been accepted as among the standards of Christian apologetics generally, others being powerful arguments in favor of temperance and moral reform. He was a constant and honored pulpit and platform advocate of everything tending to the amelioration of society; indeed, his absence from any assembly in the metropolis in which the public were called upon to take action towards righting wrongs or implementing proposals in the direction of human progress or elevation would have been regarded as a most remarkable occurrence.

Up to very recently the cardinal had been seen in London's slums looking about as usual. He was clad in a simple clerical garb. His figure, though thin and bent, still arose far above those of ordinary men whom he met. Standing erect, he would measure nearly six feet three inches in stature. His hair was very scant and white as snow. But it was the clean cut face of this old man that would attract attention. Over it the skin was drawn like parchment. It was a long, thin, powerful, ascetic face, with intellectuality in every line and wrinkle. In the contour of the jaw and chin there were those marks of decision and strength of character that stamp the leader of men. Now and then some passer-by would tender the aged man a respectful salute, and he, in turn, would not fail to bow in graceful courtesy. Again, he would pause to pat some ragged, dirty-faced urchin on the head, and address to the abashed youngster some smiling remark. Most of the denizens of the region through which he was passing seemed to know him. Frowsy women would retire into their hallways upon his approach, and lounging dockmen would cease to swear, and pull clumsily at their greasy caps when he drew near. The stolid-looking policemen, too, appeared to know the aged man, for they would invariably draw themselves up, and salute, as though to a superior officer. It was significant of the character of the man that, although past 83 years of age, he was still to be seen in the London slums attending to church work that some curates would think it beneath their dignity to perform. The Cardinal, since Newman's death, had stood alone and unique among English churchmen. He had outlived all his followers. Newman and Pusey died years ago. Cardinal Howard, of the great Catholic family of the Howards, still lives. But he has been at Rome these many years. Thus His Eminence was the last of the Cardinals in England, and it is more than probable that his place will not be filled for many years.

Cardinal Manning's course in the matter of the dock laborers' strikes had a most beneficent effect, and, if that were necessary, endeared him more than ever to the masses of society. Naturally, and by his ecclesiastical training, an ascetic, Cardinal Manning never forgot that he was a man; his heart was of the largest and most sympathetic character, and in this particular, as well as in his Christian and pastoral life, he followed at no great distance in the footsteps of Him whom he professed to serve. His influence as an Englishman was very potent in the advancement of Roman Catholicism in the British Isles, and, but for his extreme age, he would have been brought prominently forward as a candidate for the Papal succession, although it would appear as if the constitution of the college of Cardinals made it impossible for other than an Italian to occupy the Papal chair.

Hon. Mr. Beaven Receives a Big Majority—A Close Contest in James Bay Ward.

The management of the affairs of the city of Victoria for the year 1892 will be in the hands of Hon. Robert Beaven, mayor; and an aldermanic board constituted as follows:

Yates Street Ward—Messrs. J. B. Lovell, S. T. Styles and W. D. McKillican.

Although the candidates were unusually numerous and the friends of each worked hard for his election, the campaign closed at the polls, yesterday, was as uneventful and free from excitement as it was brief. There were only two or three public meetings—and these in the ward school houses—the majority of the would-be-aldermen contenting themselves with a single appearance on the platform, on nomination day.

At the polls, yesterday, very little enthusiasm was manifested, the electors coming and going quietly, in about the same number as one year ago. The returns in almost every ward were surprising, while the majority with which Hon. Mr. Beaven was declared mayor, although he was looked upon as a sure winner, astonished even his friends. For mayor, 1,129 ballots were cast—410 from A. to G., 350 from G. to N., and 369 from N. to Z.—and the counting of these occupied just one hour. Eleven ballots were rejected, and the remaining 1,118 were thus divided:

Hon. Robert Beaven	805
A. J. Smith	313
Majority for Mr. Beaven	492

In the wards, 1,532 votes were polled, 26 ballots only being rejected. Ald. Joseph Hunter polled the highest aldermanic vote of the day, 266, his Yates street ward neighbor, Mr. J. B. Lovell, coming next with 245, and his confrere, Ald. Munn following with 244. In Yates street ward, it was at one time thought that Ald. McKillican was out of the race—disqualified by his proposer on the nomination paper, Mr. Lettice, having lost his vote through some technicality. Investigation showed Ald. McKillican that he was all right, but he blames this incident for the position he occupies in the list of successful ones. The returns from the various wards were received by the returning officer as follows:

JOHNSON STREET WARD.

J. C. Devlin	213
James Baker	269

John Hall	191
*Wm. Wilson	194
J. G. Tiarks	153
J. P. Matthews	91
Dr. Morrison	77
John Lawson	69

*In this ward the deputy returning officer announced that Mr. William Wilson had polled 193 votes, and produced a doubtful ballot. It was, by the returning officer, accepted as a good vote for Mr. Wilson, bringing him tie with Mr. Hall, for whom Mr. Bull gave his casting vote.

The results having been officially made known, those of the candidates who remained were called on for brief speeches, Mayor-elect Beaven, Aldermen McKillican, Devlin, Baker, Humber and Hunter responding, in addition to a number of gentlemen whom the electors had relegated to the home guard. The customary vote of thanks to the veteran returning officer, Mr. W. K. Bull, terminated the day's proceedings.

One remarkable and decidedly satisfactory feature of this election day was the noticeable absence of drunks and disorderly characters from the streets. Few cities in the land can compare with Victoria in point of good order, when good order is most noticeable and appreciated.

PRESENTATION

To His Worship Mayor Grant by the Civic Officials.

There was a very interesting ceremony performed in the city treasurer's office, yesterday afternoon. At four o'clock, his worship the mayor was informed that his services were required in the office, and upon entering, the "dark plot" announced in yesterday's COLONIST was evolved in the presence of all the officials.

City Clerk Dowler read the following address, the "little souvenir" referred to being a two carat diamond ring:

To His Worship,
JOHN GRANT, ESQUIRE,
Mayor of the Corporation of the City of Victoria.

We, the undersigned officers of the Corporation of the City of Victoria representing the members of the various civic departments with which we are connected, desire at the close, at least for the present, of your distinguished career as Chief Magistrate of the city, to express our common feeling of regret, that in resigning to other hands the important trust which the electorate of the city has for four consecutive years committed to your charge, the official relations hither to existing between us are so soon to be severed.

Permit us to say that your manly bearing, uniform cordiality and kind consideration throughout the period of our relationship has been fully appreciated by us, and will ever be a pleasant and lasting memory.

Before your retirement from the high and honorable office you have filled so long, we feel desirous of evincing in some slight degree our sense of appreciation of the kindly interest you have ever shown in our work, the helpful advice, when needed, you have given, and the many courtesies we have received at your hands.

We now beg you to accept this little souvenir and token of our best wishes for your future prosperity, happiness and success.

His worship, in reply, thanked the officials for their kindness and thoughtfulness, and assured them that their address and valued present were to him an agreeable surprise. During his seven years connection with the civic staff he had always found them courteous, efficient, and obliging, and to their assistance was greatly due any little success which had attended his administration. He called upon them to be as faithful to his successor, and hoped that the ring which they had given him, would be a fitting token of their friendship—endless.

His worship then shook hands with each of the officials, and thus severed his official connection with them.

GENTLEMEN,—In 1880 I was severely afflicted with gravel of the kidneys from which I suffered great pain. I was recommended to take Burdock Blood Bitters, which I did, finding great relief, and after taking 4 bottles can truly say I am cured and have not since been troubled. I highly recommend it.

PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, QUEEN, Defender of the Faith, &c., &c., &c.

To Our faithful the Members elected to serve in the Legislative Assembly of Our Province of British Columbia at Our City of Victoria —GREETING.

A PROCLAMATION.

THEODORE DAVIE, Attorney-General. } WHEREAS We are desirous and resolved as soon as may be, to meet Our people of Our Province of British Columbia, and to have their advice in Our Legislature:

NOW KNOW YE, that for divers causes and considerations, and taking into consideration the ease and convenience of Our loving subjects, We have thought fit, by and with the advice of Our Executive Council of the Province of British Columbia, to hereby convoke, and by these presents enjoin you, and each of you, that on Thursday, the Twenty eighth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, you meet Us in Our said Legislature or Parliament of Our said Province, at Our City of Victoria, FOR THE DISPATCH OF BUSINESS, to treat, do, act, and conclude upon those things which in Our Legislature of the Province of British Columbia, by the Common Council of Our said Province may, by the favor of God, be ordained.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent and the Great Seal of the said Province to be hereunto affixed: WITNESS, the Honourable HUGH NELSON, Lieutenant-Governor of Our said Province of British Columbia, in Our City of Victoria, in Our said Province, this Twenty-third day of December, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and in the fifty-fifth year of Our reign.

REVOKED AND CANCELLED.

Hon. Justice Crease Gives Judgement as to the Oak Bay Pavilion License.

The Appeal of Captain Woolley Allowed With all Costs Therein.

Hon. Mr. Justice Crease, sitting as a County Court judge, gave his decision, yesterday morning, upon the appeal of Capt. Clive P. Woolley from the decision of Messrs. Brown and Sinclair, two justices of the peace, granting a retail liquor license to Messrs. Berry & Close for the premises known as "The Pavilion," Oak Bay beach. The appeal was sustained by His Lordship, with all costs, and the license was revoked and cancelled. As "The Pavilion" license case has been something of a local cause celebre, the decision of the learned judge is given in full :

In the matter of the County Court and re. Licensing Act and re. Close & Berry and re Pavilion Saloon, Oak Bay. This was an appeal by summons under sec. 33 of the County Courts Act, 1888, made by Clive Phillips Woolley against the grant of a retail license to James Hugh Close and James Reuben Berry for the Pavilion Saloon at Oak Bay, on the ground that such license was obtained by fraud and in a manner contrary to law.

The grounds of appeal briefly stated were non-compliance with the requirements of the License Act, chapter 73, Consolidated Statutes, B.C., namely :

1. Under section 11. In not posting a copy of the notice of the intention to apply for a license to two justices of the peace of the district, on the outer door of the courthouse, nearest to the Pavilion Saloon, the place in respect of which such petition is made.

2. Under section 13. In that Berry had not been a resident of the Province for 12 months at the time of applying for the retail license.

3. Under section 18. In that no petition or requisition sufficient to satisfy this section was obtained, in that it was not signed by two-thirds of the residents — where the license applied for is for Oak Bay.

The Pavilion Saloon is a small, lightly constructed building, without bed room or any other convenience, either of a dwelling house or hotel, and merely is a saloon for the selling of intoxicating liquors by retail at Oak Bay.

It is situated on a street near the sea shore, on a lot on the new suburban place : a map of which, by Messrs. Crane, McGregor & Boggs, was produced to the court, but was not exhibited before the licensing magistrates.

This tract of land was laid out by the Oak Bay Improvement company, but practically not opened up until May last, when tram cars ran down to Oak Harbor. The number of residents all told in "Oak Harbor" appears to be three, Berry, the applicant, one Harris and Clive Phillips Woolley (the present complainant who has from the first openly opposed the grant of the license to the saloon as calculated to attract to it an undesirable class of customers).

Those appear to be all who live in the immediate neighborhood within the townsite of "Oak Bay," as laid out on the map, and the 17 acres immediately adjoining.

There is no house of any size, except Mr. Wooley's. The saloon is not in any thoroughfare from one district to another, the travelers along which might require refreshments on the way, and depends entirely for its maintenance upon the casual transient passengers from Victoria by the electric tramway to Oak Bay.

It was used, before Mr. James Berry and Mr. Close took it over, as a dancing as well as drinking saloon. That, however, was discontinued when the present applicants took possession in August last.

Against their management there has been no complaint whatever.

In Aug st last, two ex-policemen, Miller and Bloomfield (the latter as agent for the applicant), were set to work to procure signatures to a petition or requisition of residents in favor of the grant of a retail license to James Berry alone for this Pavilion Saloon.

James Hugh Close's name was not even mentioned in it.

Altogether, from August to the 14th December, only 43 signatures were obtained to it, two or three of whom were ladies and four dealers in liquor. Miller, who collected the names, very honestly stated that his instructions were to collect all the names he could of residents in favor of this grant outside of the municipal limits of Victoria District.

Accordingly we find in the requisition the names of persons residing at Victoria Gardens, beyond the Gorge, at least six or seven miles away from this saloon, and persons residing along the Mount Tolmie road, and miles away at Cadboro Bay and other places where they could presumably have no interest whatever in a saloon at Oak Bay.

Mr. F. G. Walker, counsel for the applicants, after the names and residences were disclosed, very ingeniously attempted to show that "settlement" must reasonably be construed to include a tract of land, skirking along the municipality of Victoria in a line northward across Mount Tolmie road to a point from which, striking to the eastward, it could be made to include Cadboro Bay and exactly to inclose within such limits the bulk of the names which found themselves in his petition. But that was an ex post facto limitation to suit his client and not in accord with the canvass made by Miller, or as I consider the law.

It only required a glance at the voters' list of Victoria District, which was produced in evidence, to see that the 13 names on the petition bore no proportion whatever to the number of residents in Victoria District, who, I take it, were the residents legally entitled to express their views on the subject. And if it should be contended that the word "settlement" coming after town or village was not capable of so large a construction, that would reduce the area for "residents" to Oak Harbor itself, which would be reducing the act to an absurdity. I think, therefore, this petition does not fulfil the requirements of section 18. Moreover, Mr. Close is excluded from its provisions and advantages and not entitled to a license. And as Mr. R. Ward in his evidence shows that Mr. James Berry had not been at the time of his application a resident in the province for 12 months, and his evidence is not contradicted. I think on that ground also the petition, were it otherwise correct and in order, fails of effect ; and the decision of the magistrates in accepting it was wrong. While on the subject of the construction of the legislation, I may add that many presiding magistrates are under the impression that all they have to look to is to see whether they have a petition before them, signed by two-thirds of the respectable people anywhere round in the neighborhood of the proposed saloon—indeed, that if they have that, they are under an obligation to grant the license. There could not be a greater mistake. On the contrary, they are bound, in duty, to see and consider carefully every circumstance around them which tends against the granting of the license, as well as those for it. They cannot grant a license without such a requisition, but if for good reasons they are satisfied it ought not to be granted, they are quite justified in refusing it. A license is a privilege granted, after the magistrates are satisfied it can do harm. It is not a matter of common right, but the opposite. It is a creature of the law, not a matter of necessity, and the act has therefore to be considered strictly. It is a matter too of common experience that when a house for the sale of intoxicating liquors is started in a country place away from the immediate supervision of the police, it is not long before a constable has to be appointed to prevent excess and disturbance therefrom arising.

I am also of opinion that a copy of the notice of intention to apply for the license should have been posted up (as required by section 11) outside the law courts in Victoria, which certainly was the nearest court house to the saloon in question.

The school-house for Lake District, although it had been used on several occasions as the place where licensing court had been held for the Prairie Tavern license in Saanich, and others, was not a "court-house" at all, and certainly not the court-house nearest to the place in respect of which the application was made.

The importance of this was shown by Mr. Ward's evidence, and that of Mr. Woolley, who was especially on the lookout for the posting of such notice to appear and oppose.

The magistrates, too, should have paid some regard to the written protest of the persons who opposed the grant. The Act says: "Any person" may complain, not necessarily a 'resident' only. Nor did they exercise the discretion entrusted to them by the law, when they refused to consider whether and how much the property-holders all around the proposed saloon would be injured by the grant of a license. As part of "the public" they were entitled to be considered, and among those to whose interests and convenience "due regard" should be had. It was not only the portion of the public who would wish to use the saloon who were contemplated by the Act as "the public." Every person likely to be directly affected by its establishment and the character of the persons it would be likely to attract to the neighborhood, were considerations well worthy of magisterial attention.

Moreover, the clandestine mode in which the license was obtained calls for comment. There was no good reason why the Licensing Court should not have been held at Victoria, where Mr. Ward, an experienced licensing magistrate, could have, and would have, attended, as well as in an out-of-the-way school house outside of Victoria District. John Mount Langley, a provincial constable, testifies that Bloomfield or Miller—I am not sure which—on the question of where to post the notices, coming up at the police office, told Langley "he was going to post one copy of the notice at the school house at Lake, and one at the court house here" (meaning Victoria), and was told by Langley "that would be all right." Mr. Woolley, Mr. Ward, and Mr. Hussey, superintendent of police, searched round outside the court house in vain for this notice, and Mr. Hussey informed the licensing magistrates of the fact before the license was granted at the Licensing Court. But no attention was paid to his representation. The certificate was drawn out by Mr. Bloomfield, the agent of the applicant (instead of by Hussey, the clerk), in the name of Close as well as Berry. The names to the petition were avowedly gained under the idea conveyed to them by Miller, with the consent of the applicants, that a hotel, with every accommodation of boats and seaside pleasure resorts, was being established, which ladies could safely patronize, instead of merely a pavilion saloon, for the sale of liquor by retail, and the agent of the appellant in drawing out the form of certificate, substituted the word "hotel" for the word "saloon" used in the petition, and for which the petitioners actually signed and from all these considerations, therefore, and asked the other matters proved in evidence. I am of opinion that the complaint of Mr. Woolley has been fully proved, and I therefore determine and adjudge that the said license granted to Messrs. Close and Berry is and stands revoked and cancelled accordingly, and I order that the costs of and incident to this appeal be paid by the said applicants, James Hugh Close and James Reuben Berry.

YES, HE TRULY LOVES HER.

She who is mine, whose soul is all my own,
As mine is hers, long loved and early known,
With what warm hands, with what a loving face
She gives me welcome to this quiet place,
This cottage hearth, where we two dwell alone !

We have the poor for neighbors; we are one,
Content with simple duties simply done;
And she, at least, of no ambitious race,
She who is mine.

Ah, yes! Life's vain results have come and gone;
And the dry heart, like a cold kernel stone
Within its withered pulp and shrunken case,
Might well have lost such fullness and such grace
As once it had, but for this love, full grown
And resolute and pure, that she hath shown,
She who is mine.

THE DUKE OF CLARENCE.

The death of the eldest son of the Prince of Wales has cast a gloom over the British nation. It was only the other day that the betrothal of the Duke of Clarence to his cousin, to whom he was said to be deeply attached, was celebrated. The rejoicings then were general, and, as far as human eyes could see, the young couple had before them a long and a happy life. But the sudden illness and the early death of the young Prince shows that people of high station are not exempt from the sorrows and the vicissitudes of life. The whole nation sincerely sympathise with the Prince and the Princess of Wales, and the young Princess whose hopes of happiness have been blighted so soon. This new affliction, too, will be felt keenly by the Queen. But she is seasoned to sorrow, and will not be overwhelmed by it like the young girl to whom grief was most probably but a name, to which she was unable to attach any definite meaning. The unlooked for death of a young man just entering life is always a sad blow to the circle in which he moves; but the death of this Prince, in whom so many hopes were centered, and who was to occupy so high a position, is a shock to the whole nation. The death of the Duke of Clarence is the first break in the family of the Prince of Wales, whose members are, it is said, more than commonly attached to each other.

CARDINAL MANNING.

The death of Cardinal Manning will be lamented by men of all creeds, classes and races in Great Britain and her dependencies. The force of genuine goodness was signally illustrated in his case. The Church of England clergyman who, forty years ago, joined the Roman Catholic Church, became an object of aversion to millions. Very few Protestants, of any denomination, sympathized with him, and the great bulk of the members, not only of the Church he had left, but of all other churches except the Roman Catholic, misunderstood and misjudged him. When Dr. Manning became a Roman Catholic he became a stranger among his own people, and he was separated from the great body of the nation by a high and apparently unsurmountable wall of prejudice and misconception. This estrangement he must have felt keenly, for Cardinal Manning was an Englishman—large hearted, and tender-hearted, from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet. It was, perhaps, because the people of England came, in time, to see that, although he had become a Roman Catholic, he remained English in his loyalty and English in his sympathies, that they found a place for him in their hearts. The new convert was no milk-and-water theologian. He had the courage of his convictions, as well as the ability, to express them with force and clearness. He, as often as, in his opinion, the occasion required it, gave a reason for the faith that was in him.

But, while he was a zealous Roman Catholic, he was a warm-hearted philanthropist, who took a lively and an active interest in the welfare of his fellow-countrymen. He became a leader in the cause of temperance; he worked hard to raise the poor from the misery and squalor in which they lived, and to obtain for them homes in which they could live in comfort. He also took a great interest in the labor movement. The English workingman had in Cardinal Manning an enthusiastic and a judicious friend and advocate. He took an influential part in the settlement of the dock laborers' strike, and, almost to the very last days of his life, he wrote and spoke in behalf of the workingmen. The poor of his own nation, and of all nations, had in Cardinal Manning a powerful friend. He asserted their right to the means of living, and he was ready to lend his aid to any judicious scheme that had for its object the amelioration of their condition. It is chiefly as a philanthrophist and a social reformer that Cardinal Manning has been known to the world of late years. His sympathies seem to have become tender and his heart warmer as he grew older. He retained his vigor until he was seized with his last illness. Cardinal Manning lived to a ripe old age. He was rich in good works, and it must have gladdened his heart to see that, long before he was called away, prejudice against him, once so strong and general, had entirely disappeared, and that he had won the love and respect of all men everywhere who revere goodness and who rejoice greatly when a man of ability, of learning and of high station, devotes his talents and his influence to the good of his fellow-men.

CLERICAL INTERFERENCE.

We have all along said, with regard to the result of the election in Quebec, that a very great deal depends upon the action taken by the Roman Catholic clergy of that province. If they remain passive and allow matters to take their course we are strongly of opinion that Mr. Mercier will be returned with a fair, perhaps a strong, majority; if they take a determined stand against corruption, and if they oppose the return to power of the men who are implicated in the Pacaud and other scandals a victory will be won for honest Government. We find that the Montreal Star, which is in possession of ample information upon which to form a correct opinion on the subject, has come to the same conclusion. In its issue of the 7th inst., it says:—

The Government of Mr. Mercier cannot be returned to power except by the consent of the clergy of the Roman Catholic Church. It is but quoting from a page of contemporary history to say that Mr. Mercier received his last victory at the hands of the Church; and from that day until his dismissal, the great trust of civil government has remained in his possession, because the powers of the Church did not will otherwise. His opponents taunted him, the other day, on the hustings, with crouching behind the robes of the priests, and at the same time intimated that these sacred vestures would not continue to protect dishonesty. In this fling, the stump orator was only voicing, in a rude way, the universal belief that the tongue of an evangel of the gospel would never be raised to nullify the eighth commandment.

It, no doubt, will be said that, in relying upon the interposition of the Catholic clergy in the Quebec electoral contest, we signify our approval of the interference of the clergy in politics. This many regard as a worse evil than the supremacy of corruptionists. We are very far, indeed, from being of this opinion. The issue in Quebec at this moment is much more moral than it is political. It really means, Is the Government of the province of Quebec and, by consequence, the other provinces of the Dominion, bound to administer public affairs honestly? Are public men justified in appropriating, by fraudulent means, the money raised as taxes for the purpose of advancing their party or their personal interests? To put the question more concisely and more plainly, is it allowable for men entrusted with the conduct of public affairs to steal? Rightly viewed and stripped of all disguises, this is what the issue now before the people of Quebec amounts to. We ask all impartial and all sensible men if this is not a question in which clergymen, whose function it is to teach morals, should have something to say? Of course it is. The clergyman, whether he be Protestant or Catholic, who remains silent and neutral while such a question is before the people, is unworthy of the office he holds. Let it be once proved that the Mercier Government has acted dishonestly, that it has taken money for political and other purposes to which it had no right, then, we maintain, the teachers of religion have only one course to pursue. They must insist upon the punishment of the guilty men. The truth is, when one comes to think over it, they are under a greater obligation to use their influence in favor of honest government than are the mere politicians. The clergyman who could wink at boodling, or directly or indirectly advance the interests of a boodler, is a very poor creature and altogether unworthy of his high calling.

We are strongly opposed to clergymen taking an active part in ordinary political contests; but the contest now going on in Quebec is not an ordinary one. It does not take a man skilled in casuistry to decide when it is the duty of a clergyman to descend into the political arena and when he should remain neutral, leaving it to laymen to fight the battle. Any man possessing an ordinary share of common sense can come to a decision in a minute. Who, for instance, would ask a clergyman, as such, to take an active part in an election in which the issue is reciprocity in trade with a foreign country; and who would not expect him to come out boldly on the side of the right when the object was to punish dishonest cabinet ministers, and to establish honest government? Where it is right and where it is wrong for clergymen to interfere in election contests can, in this country, be safely left to the good sense of both clergymen and laymen. The Montreal Star is right when it leads its readers to conclude that it is the duty of the Quebec clergy to oppose Mr. Mercier, and to exercise their powerful influence on the side of honest government.

A CORRUPT STATE.

Some of the San Francisco newspapers bitterly deplore the failure to bring the boodlers to justice. The condition of public affairs, both State and civic—in California is such that we do not wonder that the lovers of honest government were grievously disappointed when the corruptionists baulked their efforts to begin the work of reform. This is the Bulletin's description of the Legislature of that State:—

"It is not possible to speak in measured terms of the rotten thing that goes by the name of Legislature in this State. It has of late years been the vilest deliberative body in the world. The assemblage has become one of bandits instead of law-makers. Everything within its grasp for years has been for sale. The commissions to high office which it confers are the outward and visible signs of felony rather than of careful and wise selection. This festering and infamous cabal has been going from bad to worse. It could not descend any deeper in villainy than it did at its last session. The State, since the revelation of some of its doings, has denounced it with unsparing indignation.

"Worse than all, the Legislature has become so bad that many of the other branches have been infected by it. A form of government is beginning to disclose itself, the most infamous and outrageous that has ever prevailed among men. Everything that can be laid hold of is auctioned off. Monopoly is really the supreme power. It maintains its sway by corrupting the servants of the public. No other instrumentality lay ready to the hands of the people to relieve themselves of this intolerable tyranny but the Grand Jury. It was possible by its agency to bring at least some of the boodlers to justice. But it was at once apparent, so well manned were all the avenues of justice, that no body that could be organized by the routine method would be of the least value."

KASLO CITY,
KOOTENAY LAKE, B. C.
The owners of the townsite of Kaslo City, on the north-west shore of Kootenay Lake, now offer the investing public an opportunity to purchase lots in what is destined to be, from its location in the centre of the richest mining districts, the chief city of Kootenay. Unlike many mountain towns, it is most favorably situated on a gentle slope from the waters of a sheltered bay on Kootenay Lake, and is supplied, for domestic and manufacturing purposes, by a large stream of pure cold water.
The discoveries during the present year of numerous mines of remarkably rich ore and great width on Kaslo River and east of Slocan Lake are well known to the public. They have attracted the attention of capitalists and miners all over the continent, and there is no question that these mines, which are tributary to KASLO CITY, will receive more attention than those of any other section of Kootenay Lake.
The remarkable growth of Butte, Denver, Virginia City, Helena and other cities, and the great fortunes that have been made in each, should be sufficient inducement to investors to buy in Kaslo City. The mines that were the chief factors in building up these wealthy towns did not give as rich promise as the ledges in the neighborhood of Kaslo City. That Kaslo will have a marvelous growth also is not now questioned by anyone acquainted with the circumstances.
A spacious hotel has been built for the accommodation of travelers. Stores and other building have also been erected. The townsite is being cleared and streets graded so as to forward the large amount of building that will be in progress as soon as material is secured for construction. A trail has been built to the mines, which will be replaced by a wagon road as soon as the work can be prosecuted. The grade to the mines is an easy one. An application for a charter to build a railway line into the mines from Kaslo will be made to the coming session of the Legislature. Everything is being done that circumstances will permit to give easy access to the mines and furnish supplies for the miners. KASLO CITY will have a large population this summer. It will become the supply depot for the richest mining section yet discovered in British Columbia. If you wish to participate in the profits that enhanced values will bring, don't fail to invest in Kaslo City. Lots are on sale at the offices of all the Leading Real Estate Brokers in the Province, and at

Ladies, Attention.

During this epidemical season of selling off for next to nothing, don't forget that the Albion House sale is still raging. Big bargains in Capes, Mantles, &c.
BROWN & WHITE,
ja10-1m Government St.

Sad News.

Mr. A. B. Erskine, of the Sehl-Hastie-Erskine Co., received a letter, yesterday, announcing the death of his father, Robert Erskine, at Larne, Co. Antrim, Ireland, on the 20th of Dec. last. Deceased was 64 years of age.

Cheap Boots and Shoes.

The public are invited to examine the stock and prices in Geo. H. Maynard's shoe store, 72 Yates street. His sale starts this day; no reasonable offer refused. He thinks it better to sell them and save the trouble of moving. Next month he opens at 85 Douglas street, I.O.O.F. block. 1t

Half Mast High.

In token of respect for the Royal Family, and in sorrow for the death of his Grace, the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, almost every flag in Victoria floated half mast high, yesterday; the flagstaff surmounting the American consulate was the only one on Government street without an emblem of respect.

Remember This!

That a popular concert and a lecture, illustrated with lime light views of India, will be given in St. John's schoolroom, Herald street, on Tuesday, the 19th, at 8 p.m. An elegant programme has been arranged by the most talented vocalists of the city, under the auspices of the Church of England Young Men's Guild.

Ward's Imperial Theatre.

Again was the popularity of this theatre proved by the large audience which greeted the performance of "The Little Detective," last night.

This play is a very strong one, and full of delightful surprises, the mechanical and stage effects being particularly good; they were prepared especially for this play. "The Little Detective" will be repeated to-night.

Dramatic Entertainment.

The Young Ladies' Institute, No. 33, assisted by the Young Men's Institute, No. 85, will hold an entertainment at the Victoria theatre, on the 28th inst. They will produce "My Wife's Second Floor," and "Presumptive Evidence." The first will be a most amusing farce, and the second piece, an Irish drama, in two acts. The proceeds will be given to the Organ fund of the new R. C. cathedral.

Police Court.

Three Chinaman were up before the police magistrate, yesterday morning, for breaking the street by-law, and were all respectively fined $5 and costs. Henry Butler, whose case has been remanded several times in the police court, charged with being the owner of a glandered horse, was finally ordered, yesterday, to kill the animal within three days. Before the order was given the evidence of Veterinary Surgeons Tolmie, Riddle, Hamilton and Blanchard, was taken.

Officers Elected.

Alexandra Lodge, No. 116, Sons of England, has elected the following officers: Past President, Jas. Hellier; President, Frank Reeves; Chaplain, Thos. Robinson; Treasurer, Chas. F. Beaven; Secretary, Jas. Critchley; Guards, H. F. Wager, Geo. Millett; Committeemen, Chas. Holmes, C. P. Nankiville, J. R. Williams, H. B. Rendell, Hy. Chapman and Wm. Bull; Trustees, Robt. Dinsdale, H. G. Brown; Auditors, Thos. Bowness, H. Watts and G. B. Parry.

Appointments.

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor has appointed J. S. Knevett de Knevett, of Brussels, to be Agent-General of the province of British Columbia, for and within the State of Belgium. William Murray Mathew, of Rivers Inlet, to be a justice of the peace for the Coast district. George A. Smith, Government agent, Alberni, to be a notary public within and for the Alberni electoral district; Peter MacLaren Forin, of New Westminster; Alfred Williams, of Victoria, and Arthur E. Hodgings, of the town of Nelson, to be notaries public in and for the province of British Columbia.

Going Home.

Rev. G. W. Townsend has resigned the postorate of Emmanuel Baptist church, to take effect March 1st. It is his intention to return to England, though he may perhaps engage in evangelistic work in the East for two or three months before sailing for the old country. Though Mr. Townsend has been in the city only about eighteen months, he is well known and esteemed, and has done a good work at Spring Ridge. He has been Secretary of the Ministerial Association for the past six months and enjoys the confidence and regard of his brethren in the ministry, who express great regret at the prospects of his departure. Mr. Townsend has a good reputation in the old country, having been pastor of a church for five and a half years. He left England for the benefit of his health, which seems now, happily, re-established. He has learned to love Victoria, and believes there is a magnificent future for it. He will have a kindly word for it wherever he goes.

Change of Time.

Until further notice the Union Pacific boat will leave at 7 a.m. instead of 7:30 a.m.

Smoth Blarney.

Theatrical Rumor.

Report has it that the new manager of The Victoria theatre will put a thoroughly first-class stock company in the house to play all dates not taken by A1 travelling attractions.

Reduction in Milk.

Owing to the high price of milk, ask your grocer for Highland Brand Evaporated Cream and dilute to taste. It makes a delicious, rich cream for half the price of ordinary cow's cream.

Funeral To-Morrow.

The funeral of the late James B. Smith, who died the night before last, takes place, to-morrow morning, at 9:30 o'clock, from the Burnes House, Bastion Square, and at 10 o'clock from St. Andrew's pro-cathedral.

An Acquisition.

The highest scoring birds in the late poultry show here, owned by Mr. Hull, the well-known Olympia breeder, have been purchased by Mr. W. J. McKeon of this city. They are a pair of magnificent Black Spanish fowls.

Adjourned Until Tuesday.

Owing to the small attendance—no doubt due to the elections—the first meeting of the new directors of the B. C. Agricultural Association, set for last evening, was adjourned until Tuesday next. It is hoped that a large number of the directors will then turn out, as committees are to be formed and other important business transacted.

A. O. F. Election of Officers.

Northern Light, No. 5935, A.O.F., met, last night, for the election of officers for the ensuing six months, Chief Ranger Nicholson presiding. The election resulted as follows: J. Marsh, C.R.; J. Mundoff, S. C.R.; R. Remny, Sec.; R. Ritter, Treas.; H. Hancock, S.W.; J. Turnbull, J.W.; J. Lismore, S.B.; J. Hodson, J.B.; J. L. Burns, Trustee.

Royal School of Artillery.

The examinations of the Royal School of Artillery were concluded, yesterday, and resulted in the granting of six first-class, and five second-class certificates being granted. Lieut. Porter passed into grade A; Corp. McCarthy, Gun. Dennison, Corp. Allan, Gun. Leak, Bomb. Clowe, first-class certificates; and Gun. Davies, Gun. Gordon, Bomb Hughes and Bomb. Englefield, second-class certificates. Major Peters, Capt. Benson and Capt. Ogilvie were the examiners.

Leap Year Ball.

A ball was given last night by a number of the ladies of Victoria to their gentlemen friends. The gathering was in Harmony Hall, and the management was entirely in the hands of the gentle sex, and well did they do their work. Mrs. J. B. Jones, Mrs. W. Shewan and Mrs. W. Smith were the committee in charge, by whom invitations were issued to a number of lady friends, who, in their turn, invited the gentlemen. Under such circumstances, and considering the special privileges with which tradition, as well as custom, has invested leap year, one would think that the selection of partners might be influenced by other considerations than those of ability to trip the light fantastic. However this may have been, everyone enjoyed the dancing and acquitted herself or himself well. The programme consisted of 24 items, with the usual extras, and was gone through spiritedly. "Every two was a couple," last night, and the gentleman who moved about unescorted by a lady, was fined for his breach of discipline. To the credit of the gentlemen, as in proof of the amiability of their partners, it might be mentioned that there were only seven fines imposed during the evening. The music was excellent, as was also the the supper, and from the success of last night's ball, it will be disappointing if, during the year, the programem is not repeated.

NEWS OF THE PROVINCE.

The Nanaimo and Vancouver Municipal Elections—Haslam and Cope Respectively Returned.

A Missing Secretary-Treasurer—Canoe Found—What is its Mystery?—Current Rumours.

NANAIMO.

NANAIMO, Jan. 14.—Great interest was taken in the municipal contest to-day, more so than in any previous year. The returns were as follows: A. Haslam, 288; J. Hilbert, 221—majority 67 for Haslam. Aldermen elect: R. Nightingale, J. M. Brown, T. Dobeson, J. Ganner, Wm. Hilbert, E. Quennell, G. Baker, G. Campbell, G. McKinnell.

E. W. Whiffin, secretary of the Nanaimo Building Society, is missing, together with a shortage of nearly $4,000. A warrant has been issued for his arrest. He left Vancouver nearly a week ago, where he had been staying for a short time of late. He is supposed to have gone to the United States.

Mr. Dempsey, proprietor of the Windsor house, was married to Mrs. Perchet this morning.

WESTMINSTER.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Jan. 14.—The Oddfellows are about to call for tenders for a fine block, to take the place of that burned and destroyed by fire last February, at a cost of $25,000.

The death of the Duke of Clarence was learned here with great sorrow, all the flags flying at half mast.

A man named McFarlane has been missing for some days, and no trace can be got of him. He was employed to cover the boilers of the steamer Nanaimo and got all ready to work, but has not been seen since.

Dr. Bently expresses himself as delighted with the beneficial results to the patients of the insane asylum of the fortnightly concerts given there. Another was given last night and nearly a hundred patients attended.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Jan. 14.—In the municipal election, to-day, in Chilliwhack, Kitchen was re-elected reeve by a majority of 96 over his opponent, Mr. Ashwell. The councillors elected are Messrs. Atkinson, Vedder, Kennedy, Smith, Armstrong and Campbell.

In Langley, James Gray is re-elected reeve by a majority of 96 over Mr. Maxwell. All the councillors were elected by acclamation.

VANCOUVER.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14. — The Telegram boomed its favorite, yesterday, to the extent of three editions, one in the morning and two in the afternoon.

Flags are flying at half-mast from the shipping and public buildings out of respect to the dead Duke.

Rumors are current in reference to the indiscretions of a well known young Vancouverian. Forgery is the principal charge.

The annual meeting of the Horticultural Society and Fruit Growers' Association of British Columbia took place at the Board of Trade building here, yesterday. Many very interesting papers were read, and the convention proved a very important one. Last year's officers gave such satisfaction that they were all re-elected.

A canoe was found by a deck hand of the steamer Velos, early this morning, floating bottom up, under the city wharf. On the boat being righted the body of an Indian was found to be fastened to it, his feet caught in the cross piece. Dr. McGuigan, after examination, stated that the man had been dead for some time.

Never before, in the brief history of Vancouver, has there been so much excitement in a civic election. Business was practically suspended, and every interested ratepayer "hustled" as if, on his personal exertions, depended the result of the contest. Thousands of dollars changed hands, and the hatters are happy over the sale of election "cadies." An unusually large vote was polled. The following is the result of the election for Mayor:

Carroll—Ward 1, 117; Ward 2, 259; Ward 3, 136; Ward 4, 184; Ward 5, 136. Total, 832. Cope's majority, 13.

For Alderman—Ward 1: R. A. Anderson, 224; H. E. Connon, 213; R. McK. Fripp, 156. Ward 2: H. Collins, 298; A. W. Scoullar, 258; J. A. Green, 253; S. Brighouse, 209. Ward 3: Dr. McGuigan, 317; Perry McCraney, 243; W. Templeton, 171; E. A. Brown, 249. Ward 4: Prof. Odlum, 317; J. L. Franklin, 273; Wm. Brown, 260; C. Leveland, 249. Ward 5: R. Mills, 293; J. J. Gavin, 245; C. L. Brown, 185.

North Vancouver—Reeve: Phipps, acclamation. Ward 1: Phillips. Ward 2: D. Williams, acclamation. Ward 3: Scott. Ward 4: A. E. McCartney, acclamation.

RIGHTS OF WORKING MEN.

An Important Legal Point before the Supreme Court in the Cook Case.

Another application, which involves an important legal point, was argued before Mr. Justice Crease in Chambers yesterday. The case was that of Mr. Baker, the execution creditor, against George J. Cook, Buckley and another claimant. Application was made by Mr. H. S. Hall, for the claimants, for the payment of the wages of men employed by Cook, in preference to satisfying the debt of the execution creditor.

Mr. S. P. Mills appeared for the execution creditor, and said that it was true that the law gave the men their wages, but that the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Crease had decided that working men must first establish their claim by a judgment, and that Justice Crease had also decided that the execution creditor was entitled to a lien for his costs in the action before the men could take anything, in priority to preference given to working men by the Act. The Counsel then went on to say that, a few days ago, Mr. Justice Walkem had decided in Chambers that he did not consider a judgment was necessary, neither could he give the execution creditor a lien for his costs. He made an order, however, giving the workingmen their wages without the costs of the application. Mr. Justice Drake, he believed, was also of this view, but there was one important matter that they had overlooked, and that was the fact that Cook had been given no notice of the application and no man could be condemned before he was allowed a hearing. He would ask what practice should be followed under the Execution Act, and whether the judgment must first be obtained or merely an application by summons in Chambers.

Mr. Hall applied for leave to give notice of the proceedings to Cook, as he did not want the point to be decided on some technical objection.

Mr. Mills urged the Court that the application should be settled, once and for all.

Mr. P. E. Irving, who was present, referred to the question of costs.

Mr. Fell referred to the decision given by Mr. Justice Drake in the Marsden case.

Mr. Justice Crease said that he considered the point raised one of very great importance to practitioners and one that should be speedily settled one way or the other. He would consult with his brother judges on the subject, and ascertain their views, unless some one would take the application to the Divisional Court.

The application was accordingly adjourned.

THE GREER CASE.

Again Re-opened on a Writ of Error by the Solicitor for the Defence.

The Full Court Sits on the Case of Greer v. "The Queen."

A large number of interested parties listened to the proceedings in the Supreme Court, yesterday, in the case (as it appeared on the records) of Greer vs. The Queen.

The Attorney-General appeared on behalf of the Crown, and Mr. S. Perry Mills for Greer.

At the start of the proceedings, Greer objected to Mr. Justice Drake sitting on the case, on the ground that he had been interested as counsel in litigation that led up to the assault.

Mr. Justice Drake did not consider the reason given sufficient to disqualify or prevent him sitting. This opinion was coincided in by the other judges on the bench, Mr. Justice Walkem and Mr. Justice Crease.

The Attorney-General explained that a writ of error had been granted herein, and that he would now file a return to the writ.

Mr. Mills prayed oyer of the record on behalf of Greer, and applied for leave to assign error.

Greer then personally delivered the assignment of error to the registrar of the court.

Mr. Mills prayed that counsel be assigned for plaintiff in error.

This was granted, Mr. Mills being appointed. He then read a list of the errors, as follows:

1. That the indictment does not appear by the record to have been found and presented by good and lawful men of the New Westminster jury district.

2. There is also error in that it does not appear by the record that Samuel Greer was tried by and before Sir Matthew Bailie Begbie, Knight, Chief Justice, and a jury of good and lawful men of the New Westminster jury district according to the "Jurors' Act" and amending acts.

3. There is also error in that it appears by the record that the Chief Justice, after the trial had been duly proceeded with, and after the case on the part of the Crown and Samuel Greer respectively had been duly concluded, the Chief Justice duly proceeded to charge the jury, and immediately after the conclusion of the charge the jury retired to consult upon a verdict to be given upon the premises in the indictment specified, and that Sir Matthew Bailie Begbie, Knight, Chief Justice, and also Samuel Greer, in the absence, and without the knowledge of the Honorable Theodore Davie, the Attorney-General, went to the jury room, by the request of the jury, in the presence of Samuel Greer, at the request of the jury further charged the jury.

4. There is also error in that the Chief Justice did not deliver the whole of his charge to the jury in open court, nor in the presence of the Honorable Theodore Davie, the Attorney-General, and Samuel Greer.

5. There is also error in that it does not appear by the record that the grand jury had jurisdiction over the subject matter of the presentment to find the indictment against Samuel Greer.

6. There is also error in that it does not appear by the record that Samuel Greer committed any offence known to the law in the County of Westminster or in the Province of British Columbia.

7. There is also error in that it does not appear by the record that the sheriff, for the purpose mentioned in the record, impanelled and returned the persons mentioned in the record, or that the jury, in the record mentioned, was elected, tried and sworn to speak the truth of and concerning the premises in the indictment against Samuel Greer.

8. There is also error in that it appears by the record that James Ironside, and other persons mentioned in the record, were ordered by the court to stand aside before the jury impanelled had been returned by the sheriff.

9. There is also error in that the indictment and proceedings aforesaid, and in the matters therein contained, are not sufficient in law to warrant the said judgment to given against Samuel Greer, or to convict him of the misdemeanors aforesaid, or either of them.

10. There is also error that the judgment aforesaid is given for our said lady the Queen, whereas the said judgment, by the law of this Province of British Columbia and Dominion of Canada, ought to have been given against our lady the Queen, and for Samuel Greer.

Concerning the point about his absence from the jury room at the time of the visit of the Chief Justice, the Attorney-General asked how counsel for plaintiff could know of it?

Mr. Mills referred to the records which were on file, and which made no mention of the presence of the Attorney-General.

Mr. Justice Walkem said that if all the facts were not in the writ of error counsel for Greer could make application for diminution of the record.

The Attorney-General argued that if Mr. Mills applied for a diminution of the record it would have to be by certiorari, as he himself had proceeded in the Sproule case.

Mr. Mills said that, if it was thought necessary, he would do so, but that such action would give the Attorney-General the privilege of amending other defects in the record that had been assigned as errors.

The Attorney-General suggested that Mr. Mills should make his application for certiorari supported by an affidavit.

Mr. Mills objected, and asked the Attorney-General to join him in error.

The Attorney-General consented, and said that the question placed on record was whether the question of error was one which could not have been reserved at the trial, and whether, on that account, he ought not to move to quash the writ of error.

Mr. Justice Drake suggested that that would be the question at issue.

Mr. Mills moved for a concilium, which was granted for Wednesday next, he guaranteeing to deliver the points of argument to the judges.

A COMPLAINT.

To the Editor:—Permit me to call the attention of the ratepayers generally, and the Board of Aldermen particularly, to the fact that a large number of ratepayers find themselves excluded from voting, because they have neglected to pay the last half year's city trade license fee. Now, sir, I maintain that this is a great injustice to a ratepayer who has paid his real estate tax amounting, as the case may be, from twenty to hundreds of dollars that, because he has neglected to pay a paltry five dollar license fee, he is debarred from the privilege of exercising his franchise. To my mind this is extremely unjust, for the city has its remedy in cases of refusal or neglect to pay the city assessments. I think this is a matter that ought to be looked into by the Board of Aldermen elected to-day, and they could not do a better thing during their term of office than repeal any, and all laws, that are so manifestly unjust to bona fide ratepayers.

A Ratepayer.

MARINE MOVEMENTS.

ALONG THE WATER FRONT, JAN. 14.

The flags on the C.P.N. Co.'s steamers were all flying at half-mast, to-day, out of respect to the memory of the late James B. Smith, formerly purser of the steamer Islander.

The machinery of the new steamer lately launched off Steven's ways, is being placed in position.

Sealer Teresa, in command of Captain Lorenz, and the W P. Sayward, Captain G. R. Ferey, cleared, to-day, for the West Coast. The former has twenty-three of a crew and the latter nineteen.

Steamers Falcon and Alert arrived from Nanaimo, to-day, with coal. The Alert left again for coal, this afternoon.

Steamer Maude brought in a full cargo and a scowload of coal, to-day, from Nanaimo.

Steamer Danube is taking on freight at Rithet's wharf for the North. She sails to-morrow night.

The ship Thermopylæ, which was here about eight months ago, is now 44 days on her return trip from Bankok, with a full cargo of general merchandise for the Victoria Rice Mills.

Bark Glenbervie, Capt. Groundwater, is now 148 days from London, Eng., and may be expected here at any time. She is consigned to R. P. Rithet & Co.

The steamer Mascotte has succeeded in taking about 1500 tons of coal out of the wrecked steamer San Pedro, and she will still continue at the work. There are from thirty to forty carpenters working on the wreck every night. All the machinery necessary to raise the vessel, besides what is here, was brought up from San Francisco, for Mr. Whitelaw, by the last steamer, and the large pontoons in the course of erection are about completed.

To-morrow, a hydraulic pump will be utilized for pushing back and levelling the sand banks made by the clam-digger.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Word has been received of the death at the City of Mexico of the Princess Josephine Iturbide, youngest of the children of Mexico's first Emperor, Iturbide.

The Arab insurrection in Yemen has broken out afresh. Rebels are marching upon Sana, the capital city, and the Turkish forces are advancing to repel them.

The supreme court of California has granted a rehearing in the case of John McNulty, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of a brother longshoreman, named Collins.

The Northern Pacific is fencing its road at the rate of 300 miles a year. In the year ending June 20, 1891, there were killed on its lines 2,258 head of cattle, against 4,802 in the previous year.

Dr. J. D. Minkler, of Centralia, Wash., and a member of the state board of medical examiners, who has been on trial on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, was acquitted, to-day.

The Morocco rebels have taken possession of the trade roads leading to the interior of the country, and it is believed will be able to supply themselves with large quantities of provisions, etc, destined for Tangier.

In accordance with the orders from the Navy department, the U S. single turreted monitor Passaic has left Annapolis to be towed to the Norfolk navy yard for service as a cost defence vessel in the event of trouble with Chili.

A special from Rio Janeiro says: Silvira Martin has announced himself a candidate to succeed Don Pexiotto for President. He declares emphatically in favor of the republic, undivided and governed by a parliamentary regime.

For the first time in four years, the Mississippi river is frozen over at St. Louis. The ice gorge begins at Carondelet and extends to the Illinois shore. It is feared the river will not be open for boats inside of thirty days.

The Republican New York State Senators are getting desperate, and have seriously considered a proposition to resign in a body, the late Governor Sheehan having said at the opening of the session that there was no need of the Republican Senators coming back after the week's adjournment. The plan finds favor with all the Republicans except four, two out of whom may yet be won.

The Indianapolis street car strikers have all returned to work, pending the settlement of the trouble by arbitration. Concessions were made on both sides, and if President Franzel and the strikers' committee fail to agree a board of arbitration will be chosen.

The banquet hall at Osborne will cost nearly £30,000 by the time it is fully finished and furnished. There has not been a large banquet at Osborne since the visit of the German Emperor in August, 1890, nor is there likely to be another until he comes again next summer.

Among the many victims of influenza is Lewis Garden. About 25 years ago, Jack Garden, as his friends called him, was well-known both in London and Paris. He married a daughter of Prince Joachim Murat, the sister of the present Duchess de Mouchy.

Senor Carvalho, Portuguese minister of finance, has resigned, in consequence of the decision of the shareholders of a Portuguese railway to enquire into the management of the company, with which he was connected before he became minister of finance. The police discovered forged documents showing frauds to the extent of 150 centos of reis.

The dense fog which hung over New York, Wednesday, was a source of great embarrassment and menace to navigation. For the first time since 1888, no vessel arrived in port by way of Sandy Hook. Several big steamships were due, among them the Teutonic, but they were probably feeling their way through the dense mist. Vessels outgoing were much delayed.

Lord Dufferin, says London Truth, will probably make a popular ambassador in Paris. He is by no means a heaven-born statesman, and there is some exaggeration in the praise with which he is bespattered. He is essentially an Irishman, clever, adaptable, pleasant and resourceful, with a very full share of blarney and an eye not quite blind to his own advancement. In India he persuaded the Indians, in Canada the Canadians, in Russia the Russians, in Italy the Italians, and in Turkey the Turks that each was the special object of his love and admiration. He will now persuade the French that he has always loved the French above all other nations. In fact, he is an excellent diplomatist.

COAL

FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.)

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL. | THE SOUTH FIELD COAL.
(Used principally for Gas and Domestic purposes.) (Steam Fuel.)

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL.

(House and Steam Coal.) Are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating power, unequalled by any other Bituminous Gas Coals in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.
THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.
THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.
The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean Steamers.

AMERICAN NEWS.

Shipping.

San. FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Steamer Umatilla left San Francisco to-day for Victoria.

A Terribly Heavy Sentence.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 13.—Thos. Quinn, Stephen Crotty, Thos. O'Brien and Fred Busch, four of the young toughs who so brutally outraged the Polish girl, Sophia Jamojedne, some time ago, and who have been convicted of the crime, were to-day sentenced to 20 year's imprisonment in Auburn prison. Jeremiah Doyle, who was also found guilty, will be sentenced on Monday next.

The Oldest Mason in the World.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 14.—Hon. Robert J. Chester, the oldest Mason in the world, died at Jackson, Tenn., this morning, aged 99 years. Mr. Chester served on the staff of Andrew Jackson, his kinsman, at the battle of New Orleans. Masons from all parts of the country will attend the funeral.

The Baltimore Affair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—One of the crew of the British warship Daphne, said to-day: "We were in port, at Valparaiso, during the Baltimore trouble. A few days before the Baltimore's men were murdered, a number of the crew of the German corvette, Sophie, were on shore. One of the men was in the Shakespeare House, where the Baltimore trouble started. A number of Chilians were in the place. One asked, pointing to the German, "Is he an American?" A half-breed answered, "Yes" and and then there was a turmoil. One Chilian rushed forward and seized the German by the shoulder, and another stabbed him in the stomach. The German died in five minutes. A few days later a similar affair occurred with the Baltimore's men. The Shakespeare House is a den and a rendezvous for all the sailors who congregate at Valparaiso."

The Burned Bark Weston.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Further advices relating to the burning of the whaling bark John P. Weston, on the 5th instant, in the vicinity of Honolulu, are anxiously awaited in this city, but no information can be gained until the arrival of the Australian steamer. Some ugly rumors have got abroad that the loss of the vessel was not due to an accident, but there is no foundation as far as known for the story that the vessel was set on fire. It is known that the Weston carried quite a large quantity of coal oil in cases between decks, and this probably accounts as to how the vessel came to be enveloped in flames almost immediately after the fire was discovered.

DOG AND POULTRY SHOW.

The Exhibition Closes With an Enthusiastic Meeting—A Success in Every Way.

All the Awards not Yet Announced—Liberal Donations Towards Next Year's Show.

Yesterday was the last day of the Dog and Poultry Show, and the attendance at the public market was larger, by far, than at any other time during the course of the exhibition. The judges, notwithstanding their hard work and continuous labor, found it impossible to finish awarding the prizes until a late hour last night, and, consequently, it is impossible to publish the names of the whole of the prize-winners in this issue. All through the day the galleries were thronged with crowds of visitors, who manifested especial interest in the poultry and other feathered stock on show. The incubator, too, was a source of instruction and amusement to very many. In conjunction with this, it may be mentioned that the Perry State Incubator Company, to whom the machine belonged, were awarded a special prize for their exhibit, an honor well deserved, as it formed a very material attraction. To Mr. F. W. Hitchcock and Mr. S. A. Roberts, the judges respectively of the poultry and dogs, the Association owe their heartiest thanks, and, as will be seen by the report of their annual meeting, praise for their splendid efforts was by no means wanting. Not a single complaint from any exhibitor has been heard during the time that the show has been in progress, and no competitor has expressed anything but the greatest satisfaction at the manner in which his exhibit has been judged. This is a remarkable showing, and the two gentlemen named are fully deserving of the high encomiums passed by everybody on their ability.

Appended is an additional list of the ordinary awards for dogs, not completed in yesterday's issue of the COLONIST:

J. H. Meldram—Retriever dog.
G. Richardson—Retriever bitch.
G. Richardson—Retriever puppy dog.
Henry Croft—Skye terrier.
John D. Mercer—Scotch terrier.
G. Pinder—Scotch terrier (smooth).
A. Pinder—Scotch terrier bitch (smooth).
H. Smith—Fox terrier bitch (smooth).
H. R. Reeve — Fox terrier bitch puppy (smooth).

E. Crompton—Fox terrier wire haired puppy.
W. J. McKeon—Greyhound bitch.
C. N. Cameron—Liver and white field spaniel puppy bitch.
C. N. Cameron—Liver and white field spaniel puppy dog.
L. F. Perrin—Irish setter.
H. short—Irish terrier.
Geo. Watson—Bedlington terrier dog.
W. J. Herring—Miscellaneous dog.

The following is a list of the special prizes awarded for dogs:—

Best dog in show, Irish Setter—Dr. Duncan.
Best Cocker Spaniel pup—J. S. Bassett.
Heaviest dog—Ed. Rithet.
Best Black and Tan—W. B. C. Newburn.
Best English Setter—D. M. Eberts.

Best Male Cat—H. M. Walker.
Best Skye Terrier—H. Croft.
Best smooth St. Bernard—Ed. Rithet.
Next best smooth St. Bernard—Dr. Milne.
Second best Irish Setter—Gordon Hunter.

The birds were judged one by one, every point being carefully noted, a novel and improved feature of the judging being that Mr. Hitchcock made his awards in public, surrounded the whole time by a large crowd of interested spectators.

THE MEETING OF THE ASSOCIATION.

Just before the close of the show, the annual meeting of the B. C. Poultry, Dog and Pet Stock Association was held in one of the large rooms adjoining the Market Building. Mr. C. E. Renouf, President, occupied the chair. There was a very large attendance of members.

The chairman in opening the meeting called attention to the change in the prospects of the society during the past year, and expressed his pleasure at being able to inform those present that he believed they had turned the corner at last, and that, this year, they would be able to carry a small surplus forward in the books, instead of, as after former shows, a deficit. The thanks of the Association were due to all outside exhibitors, especially those from Oregon, North Bend, Whidby Island, Nanaimo, and Duncan's Station, who had helped so much to make the show a success. The thanks of the Association were also due to Mr. Mercer, of Seattle, and to the judges, officers and committee. Owing to Mr. Mercer's efforts, the Seattle and Victoria shows, instead of clashing with each other, had been each a benefit to the other.

The following officers of the Association were then elected for the ensuing year:

President, D. M. Eberts; Treasurer, W. J. McKeon, (re-elected); Secretary, R. P. McLennan, (re-elected.) Executive Committee—Messrs. Dr. Walkem, Dr. Duncan, Dr. Milne, W. J. Taylor, J. H. Franck, R. A. Cunningham, J. W. Flett, B. Boggs, J. B. Carmichael, Mercer, Calligan, Garrison, Teague, Hall, Renouf, and Mercer.

Appropriate speeches were then made by Doctors Walkem, Duncan and Milne, and Messrs. W. J. Taylor, McKeon, Perrin and several others.

It was with a great deal of satisfaction that the newly elected officers saw the prospects for a successful show, next year, becoming brighter as one gentleman after another got up and offered substantial prizes for competition. The following is a list of the amounts promised for specials, already. They are to be given by the donors in either cash or cups, as the winners prefer.

Dr. Duncan, $25; Dr. Walkem, $25; S. W. Lowe, $15; Mr. Hull, $20; W. J. Taylor, $25; S. W. Lowe, $10; Mr. Mercer, $10; C. W. Riley, $10; C. W. Riley, $5; B. Boggs, $10; A. Pinder, $10; W. J. McKeon, $10; W. J. McKeon, $10; G. A. Perrin, $50; S. W. Lowe, $10; Mr. Callaghan, $5; Mr. Mercer, $10.

After the above amounts had been subscribed toward the special prize list for next year (making the handsome total of $260 before the old show was barely over), Dr. Walkem informed those present that Mr. Hitchcock, the judge of the poultry, who had given such general satisfaction, was a candidate for the position of a judge of poultry at the Chicago World's Fair. On his motion the secretary was instructed to write to the Managing Director of the World's Fair, strongly endorsing that gentleman's claim, and at the same time sending ample proof of his sterling ability.

Votes of thanks were then accorded publicly to both judges, who on replying were loudly cheered.

The meeting adjourned a little after 10 o'clock.

A Prompt Result.

DEAR SIRS.—Two years ago I was very ill with jaundice, and tried many medicines, which did me no good, until I was advised to try B. B. B., when, after using half a bottle, I was effectually cured.

will be paid by the National Electric Tramway and Lighting Company, limited liability, for the apprehension and conviction of the parties who, last evening, placed stones in the curve of the tramway at the corner of Cook Street and Caledonia Avenue. ja13-2t

TO DEPOSITORS.

The British Columbia Land and Investment Agency, Ld.

(SUCCESSORS TO ALLSOP & MASON.)

In view of the low rate of interest given by the Dominion Savings Bank Department, and the restrictions imposed as to the amount to be deposited, this Company is now prepared to receive money on deposit, in large or small amounts, at interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, and on favorable terms as to notice, etc.

The offices of the Company have been removed to 40 Government street, the premises lately occupied by the Telegraph Company.
